E-Safety Policy

Principle

ICT in the 21st Century is seen as an essential resource to support learning and teaching, as well as playing an important role in the everyday lives of children, young people and adults. Consequently, schools need to build in the use of these technologies in order to arm our young people with the skills to access life-long learning and employment.

Information and Communications Technology covers a wide range of resources including; web-based and mobile learning. It is also important to recognise the constant and fast paced evolution of ICT within our society as a whole. Currently the internet technologies children and young people are using both inside and outside of the classroom include:

- Websites
- Apps
- Email, Instant Messaging and chat rooms
- Social Media, including Facebook and Twitter
- Mobile/ Smart phones with text, video and/ or web functionality
- Other mobile devices including tablets and gaming devices
- Online Games
- Learning Platforms and Virtual Learning Environments
- Blogs and Wikis
- Podcasting
- Video sharing
- Downloading
- On demand TV and video, movies and radio / Smart TVs

Whilst exciting and beneficial both in and out of the context of education, much ICT, particularly web-based resources, are not consistently policed. All users need to be aware of the range of risks associated with the use of these Internet technologies and that some have minimum age requirements (13 years in most cases).

At The Manchester Federation of EBSD Schools we understand the responsibility to educate our pupils on eSafety Issues; teaching them the appropriate behaviours and critical thinking skills to enable them to remain both safe and legal when using the internet and related technologies, in and beyond the context of the classroom.

Everybody in the school community has a shared responsibility to secure any sensitive information used in their day to day professional duties and even staff not directly involved in data handling should be made aware of the risks and threats and how to minimise them.

Both this policy and the Acceptable Use Agreement are inclusive of both fixed and mobile internet; technologies provided by the school (such as PCs, laptops, mobile devices, webcams, whiteboards, voting systems, digital video equipment, etc); and technologies owned by pupils and staff, but brought onto school premises (such as laptops, mobile phones and other mobile devices).

Process

Access to the Internet is provided to support the school's aims. All internet and e-mail use must, without exception, be related to school work. This policy will be enforced using electronic monitoring and direct supervision. All users, including staff and pupils will sign an Acceptable Use of ICT Agreement to ensure that everyone is informed of their responsibilities when using any ICT device. (Appendix 1 and 2)

Breaches of this agreement will be regarded as a disciplinary matter and dealt with severely. Examples of inappropriate and unacceptable use are:

- Releasing school information to unauthorized individuals.
- Sending, forwarding, browsing, exporting from or importing into the school any material that is or could be considered pornographic, obscene, profane, offensive (whether from a sexual, racial, political or religious perspective), libellous, defamatory, illegal or of a criminal or subversive nature.
- Transmission of unsolicited commercial or advertising material.
- Violating other people's privacy, including the uploading of text or images to websites referring to or representing any members of the school community, staff and pupils
- Using chat lines or similar services.
- Damaging other users' work in any way
- Committing the school to purchase or acquire services or goods without proper authorisation.
- Downloading unauthorised software and files, including MP3 files.
- Any use that could bring the school's name into disrepute or that could be damaging to the school.

The school reserves the right to retrieve and access all emails or faxes, whether or not they have been marked confidential, at any time, without the permission of the person and without notice. Users should have no expectation that any electronic information will remain private.
